A UNION TICKET.
Interest as to What New York Republicans Will Do.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Political interest is entirely focused upon the question if the Republicans of the city will agree to nominate a fusion ticket in company with the Independent organization to oust Tammany. Today the Committee on Nominations appointed by the Republican county convention held a meeting and extended an invitation to all organizations who have a desire to unite with the Republican party to a conference tomorrow.

The Good Government clubs held a meeting tonight and decided in effect to reconsider their determination to place an independent ticket in the field. The New County Committee of the State Democracy also held a meeting. It elected the following officers: Chairman, C. S. Fairchild; vice-chairmen, Oswald Ottendorfer, Wheeler H. Peckham, Hugh R. Garden and Joseph H. Senner. A committee was appointed to confer with the other organizations moving for a union ticket.

THE CAMBRIANS.

SALT LAKE (Utah), Oct. 4.—At today's meeting of the Cambrian Association, the following officers were elected: President, Arthur L. Thomas of Salt Lake; vice-president, George B. Bywater of Salt Lake; J. H. Leyson of Butte, John S. Jenkins of Denver, D. G. Thomas of Rock Springs, Wyo.; W. N. Williams and D. L. Davis of Salt Lake; secretary, John James of Salt Lake.

The location for the next Eldested will be settled tomorrow. Denver comes to the front with letters of invitation from Mayor McMurray, Gov. McIntyre and Secretary Jackson of the Denver Board of Trade. Montana will make strong fight for Butte, but the Denver people are confident of success.

MEXICAN COMMERCE.
Its Marvelous Growth is Attributed to Its Silver Basis.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 4.—In a previous telegram to the Associated Press, Mexico's exportation for the fiscal year ended June last, was stated at $34,000,440. It should have been noted that this is expressed in gold according to invoices of merchandise, so that, taking it at 80 per cent. exchange, a fair average for the year, the amount was $27,202,352, as against exports of $30,854,553, making the total volume of foreign trade $152,000,000 in round numbers. Imports from the United States valued at about $30,000,000, silver value.

The marvelous growth of Mexico's commerce is attributed by the Mexican Herald to the country's being on a silver basis, which acts as a stimulus to every industry, and is leading to the establishment of new manufactures each week, among others being a great paper-mill projected by Americans, also woolen and cotton-mills, etc.

Lieut. Dwyer, military attaché of the United States Legation, will in a few days render his report to Minister Ramsom on the case of the negro colonists in Durango. Lieut. Dwyer regards the surroundings of the negroes as being so very different to what they were accustomed to in the United States that most of their troubles may fairly be attributed to this change of environment. Climate tried them severely, and the change of water brought on complaints which were aggravated by insufficient dwelling-house accommodations.

No One Anticipates a Fight with Britain.

Congress Will Convene Before an Ultimatum Will be Considered.

Nobody Seems Disposed to Talk of the Alleged Correspondence on the Venezuela Case in the Department Circles.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—(Special Dispatch.) The Washington correspondent of the Times-Herald sends the following: "The sensation of the day in the national capital was the dispatch published this morning concerning the Venezuela case. The usual efforts were made today to secure an official denial of the accuracy of the story, but without success. Secretary Olney refused either to affirm or deny. He could not with propriety take any other position. It is not his business to give away secrets of the cabinet. The other officials decline to discuss the report, but the intentionally admit its correctness.

"In diplomatic circles the news, while not wholly unexpected, was received with liveliest interest. A veteran member of the corps said this bold and forcible policy of the United States was to be the crucial test of our future. If Great Britain yields to the contention and agrees to submit the whole controversy to arbitration, that would be an acknowledgment of the life and force of the Monroe doctrine.

"The gravity of the present situation is not as yet appreciated on either side of the ocean. It is understood by Cleveland and Olney and by certain other members of the cabinet. A crisis has at last been reached in the history of the doctrine first enunciated by Monroe. Great Britain is not to be left in doubt concerning the earnestness of the United States. Your correspondent has information today of a trustworthy source that the dispatch of Secretary Olney to Ambassador Bayard is even more positive and absolute than was set forth in last night's dispatch. With the United States it is now the Monroe doctrine or fight.

"It is too early to talk of war. No member of the Washington government believes war between this country and England is likely to grow out of the contention, yet all admit its possibility. What Great Britain will do is a question of quality. As for the United States our position is taken and cannot be retreated from.

"Cleveland and Olney have been careful to keep out of the momentous international issue any suspicion of private interests. The fact that an American syndicate is laying claim to a grant in the disputed territory has nothing whatever to do with the action of the State Department. Your correspondent has authority for saying that the members of the Manoa syndicate have had no communication with the State Department.

"President Cleveland hopes to be able to lay the matter before Congress sometime during the coming winter. If Great Britain declines to yield, as is not improbable, it will be for Congress to decide what shall be done next. No doubt is entertained here that in such an emergency both political parties and the country would promptly support the position taken by the administration.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Secretary Olney positively refused to say anything touching any correspondence he had had, or intends to have, relative to the subject of the Venezuelan boundary dispute, so it cannot be positively ascertained whether he has taken any steps recently to induce Great Britain to bring the dispute to arbitration. It is more probable that the attention it demands and is formulating his views to be communicated to Ambassador Bayard upon the return of the latter from his vacation in Scotland.

Moreover, as the preceding letters of the late Secretary Gresham on this subject appear to have failed to secure action by the British government, whose only response was a reiteration of their willingness to arbitrate the title to the lands included within supplementary claims found outside of the vast tract which the Venezuelans have seized from them, Secretary Olney may feel that the time has come to make a more forcible presentation than the mere statement that the United States would welcome a submission of the question to arbitration will be the nature of the Secretary's letter. This must be done in order that some proper return may be made to Congress in December. But further than that the Secretary is not likely to proceed, for as an ultimatum is really a step toward war, to deliver such might be regarded as an infringement of the constitutional right of Congress.

CLAIMS AGAINST BRAZIL.
BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 4.—A dispatch to El Diario says that England, France

HE'S RIGHT IN "DE PUSH"—SEE!

Grover has taken to the bicycle and this will no doubt soon be a familiar figure in Washington.

and Italy have decided upon collective action with a view to securing satisfaction of their respective claims upon Brazil. The claims of France grew out of the disputed jurisdiction of the territory of Amapa, lying between Brazil and French Guiana. Its claims are for reparation on account of damages suffered by Italian ships during the revolution.

The British Minister withdrew from Rio last summer, leaving the legation in charge of an attaché to mark the strained relations between the two countries. England's claims probably relate to the Island of Trinidad, which she seeks to obtain as a cable station.

THE EPISCOPALIANS.
SEVERAL AFFAIRS OF STATE ARE PASSED UPON.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—The two houses of the Episcopal convention had brief sessions today before going into joint session as a "Board of Missions." Resolutions commending the Governor and Legislature of Texas for their stand on the prizefighting question were adopted by the House of Deputies. The House of Bishops referred to the proper committee the memorial of the diocese of California, asking consent of the house to the erection of a new diocese within the limits of the present one.

The feature of the afternoon meeting of the Board of Commissions was the adoption of several resolutions and the first indication of the coming contest as to whether there shall be a bishop elected to Alaska. The work of the church in Alaska was presented by Bishop Bullen and Barker, but Bishop Neely of Maine said that there were two sides to the question, and he had a statement of the Episcopal situation which made things look differently. He will present it later, and meanwhile announces that he will oppose the election of an Alaskan bishop. The Pray Book Distribution Committee made an interesting report, showing the distribution of 1,100,000 prayer-books since 1882. The following resolutions were then adopted:

"Resolved, that in this first assembly of the Board of Missions since the massacre of the Christian Armenians the committee expresses its horror at the atrocities practiced on the Armenians who have suffered for the truth, as well as for the courage and steadfastness with which they have borne their unexpressed anguish and their heroism of their martyrdom.

"Resolved, that we earnestly call upon the people of our country to express their sorrow and that we earnestly call upon the people of our country to express their sorrow and that we earnestly call upon the people of our country to express their sorrow.

"Resolved, that the Board of Missions has learned with deep sorrow that the outbreaks of violence in China by which mission property has been destroyed; the safety of missionaries threatened, and in some instances the lives of missionaries sacrificed and women and children horribly treated.

"Resolved, that this board convays to our own missionaries in China, and through them all who were laboring in the gospel of Christ in the midst of perils, the assurance of our prayers, sympathy and solicitude for their welfare.

"Resolved, that the board express to the Church Missionary Society of England, the American Missionary Society, whose missionaries were slain and wounded in the late massacre of Ku-Chang, its deepest sympathy in their sorrow, and that we earnestly call upon the United States government to lend its strong arm of protection over the citizens of our country residing in that unhappy land, and secure them in their treaty rights.

"Whereas, during the summer just passed, the attention of the country has been directed to the so-called uprising of the Bannock Indians in Idaho; and whereas, an impartial and official investigation has shown that the Indians were the innocent victims of the whites, resulting in the slaughter of helpless human beings; therefore be it

"Resolved, that we call the attention of the United States government to these outrages and request a fearless investigation."

A POET LAUREATE.
Sir Edwin Arnold May Step into Tennyson's Shoes.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)
LONDON, Oct. 4.—(Special Dispatch.) The Daily News will say tomorrow that it has been assured that Prime Minister Salisbury has resolved to appoint the poet laureate in succession to the late Lord Tennyson, and his choice has fallen on a London journalist. The journalist referred to is probably Sir Edwin Arnold, author of "The Light of Asia," "The Light of the World," and other well-known works in verse. Sir Edwin has been connected with the Daily Telegraph since 1861.

"Jew Lottie" Drowned.
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 4.—The body of Louise Laville, the wife of Dave Laville, a well-known gambler of Sacramento, was this evening found in the Sacramento River, lodged between two trees, near the river bank. She had been missing since about midnight. The woman was commonly known as "Jew Lottie." Last night she was out drinking with a man named "Deb" Wright, an employee on a river steamer. He is missing, and it is supposed that he was drowned also.

According to the Armenians Two Hundred of Their Number Have Been Slain—Deputation Calls on British Ambassador.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—(By Atlantic Cable, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 4.) The Armenian church of Constantinople and other churches in different parts of the Turkish capital are still crowded with refugees. There are nearly five hundred Armenians in the Patriarchate Church alone. The scenes in the churches are heartrending in the extreme. Many women and children are bewailing the loss of their husbands and fathers.

The Armenians declare that the Turkish mob committed the most terrible excesses in the Karaghomuk quarter of Constantinople during the night of Monday, when the rioting first broke out. A woman named Aghavni who was eight months enroute, was ripped open, it is claimed, and the child within her was exposed to the jeering mob. It is added that the same woman's daughter, only 14 years old, was ravished. It is still impossible to give the exact number of killed or wounded. All accounts concur in saying that the Turkish police countenanced the excesses.

According to the Armenians, about two hundred persons have been killed during the rioting. A deputation of forty leading Armenians called at the British Embassy today to see the British Ambassador, Sir Philip Currie. They were informed that Sir Philip was absent, but they said they had come to see him and would wait there until he appeared.

THE COMMISSION OF INQUIRY.
LONDON, Oct. 4.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Constantinople, published this afternoon, says that one of the foreign delegates of the international commission of inquiry says that its report will show that the total number of inhabitants of Sassoun Valley did not exceed four thousand, and the number of Armenians killed in the capture of the villages of Semai, Shemak and Dheiluzan and in taking Antioch-Bamboul was at most three to five hundred.

It is also claimed that the report will demonstrate that there is no evidence that any one was killed or maimed, or that there were any mutilations of women or children. Finally, it is asserted by the delegate, according to the correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette, that about forty persons were buried in the death pit at Gheluzan, and the statement that a number of women threw themselves over the cliff in order to avoid dishonor is false.

A MINISTER RESIGNS.
PARIS, Oct. 4.—Advices from Constantinople received here state that the Turkish Minister of the Interior has resigned.

MONDAY'S DEAD.
LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Berlin correspondent of the Standard telegraphs to that paper that he learns positively that the number of Turks killed on Monday in the riots at Constantinople was forty-three, and of the Armenians 111. The number of bodies buried on both sides was several hundred.

SACHTLEBEN'S PERMISSION.
LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Armenian correspondent of the Daily News says that the pasha who has been appointed by the Sultan to carry out projected reforms in Armenia has granted permission to William A. Sachtleben, the St. Louis bicyclist, to accompany him to Bayazid and have proved to him his own courage in the matter of the murder of Frank Lenz, the American bicyclist, for which purpose Sachtleben went to Turkey.

A FEARFUL SHOWING.
LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily News says that from one thousand to twelve hundred Armenians have been imprisoned at the capital. "It is now absolutely certain," the correspondent adds, "that eighty-one bodies of Armenians have been given up by the Turkish officials to the Armenian hospital at Samboul. All were in a fearful condition, some having as many as thirty wounds."

THE FOREIGN AMBASSADORS.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 4.—After a conference of the ambassadors today energetic representations were made to the Turkish Foreign Minister, complaining of the excesses committed by the Mussulman populace on the prisoners and wounded on Monday and Tuesday. Many of them were dispatched with bludgeons, while others were most cruelly maltreated. The representatives of the powers begged the Foreign Minister to take measures to prevent the foreign residents of Constantinople from suffering and to restore order. The United States Minister, Alexander W. Terry, also made representations to the Turkish government requesting that steps be taken to insure the safety of the United States missionaries in the Koumkanos quarter.

MUNICH (Bavaria), Oct. 4.—At today's sitting of the lower house of Parliament, the premier announced that an appeal of Louis Sterne of New York, sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment and a fine of 600 marks for insulting Baron von Thuningen, Deputy Commissioner of Spa at Kissingen, had been rejected.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

In a case decided yesterday by a Los Angeles justice court it was shown that while "leg-rubbing" is all right for an "electric heater," "leg-pulling" is highly reprehensible.

The voice of the ticket-scalpers is evidently still for war, and they are now pleading for a golden ointment to soothe the wounded feelings of their representative for having suffered the indignity of a summary ejection from the train. The fight is a good one as it progresses and waxes strong.

The all-absorbing topic at Redlands just now relates to the marketing of her orange crop. The growers are apparently divided on the question as to whether it would be wise to join the Southern California Exchange. "A house divided against itself cannot stand," but the Redlands orange orchards will continue to bear, regardless of any resolutions which the growers might pass.

Now it is said that some Riverside people who have never been murdered, and do not know how it feels to be treated that way, are talking of praying the Governor to commute the sentence of the Cummings brothers, who are doomed to hang for the brutal killing of T. C. Naramore, and make it life imprisonment. If Riverside is not careful it will attract the attention of the fool-killer.

One of the meanest men on the foot-stool is a chap in San Diego, who, several days before going into involuntary, deliberately purchased from one of the local merchants, trunks, shoes, bags and an outfit of wearing apparel, and had the purchase charged to his account. Next day he failed and scheduled his debt for the previous day's purchase, thereby practically freezing out the merchant's claim. Such "cattle" in any civilized community deserve to be punished.

The great frequency and uselessness of some holidays is becoming exasperating. There is going to be a holiday next Monday because that date is set by the Legislature as the "State Labor day," although a "labor day" was duly celebrated here only a few short weeks ago. This "labor day" will be observed only by those who will not be required to labor, though drawing their wages just the same—county and city officials, schoolteachers and bankers.

From the report presented by the Meat and Milk Inspectors to the Board of Health yesterday, it seems that much of the milk consumed in the city is adulterated with stuff called "preservative." Doctors denounce this adulteration, and pronounce its effects injurious. With a competent inspector to make public such mixing of milk and drugs, the practice may, perhaps, be discouraged and ultimately cease. Meanwhile the wise citizen will do a little investigating on his own account.

In the East they are having a good deal to say about the remarkable longevity of a man at Red Bank, N. J., who is 103 years old, and another man, somewhere else, who is 101 years. These are tolerably good signs, to be sure, but out here on the shores of the halcyon Pacific, within the confines of Southern California, the old padres can point to many of the aboriginal members of their flocks, ranging in age from 125 to 146 years. People live longer in Southern California than they do in the variable East.

Now that the electrifying of the Main-street railway has been definitely decided upon, it may be hoped that work may be commenced before the end of the present century on three other important improvements, which have been so much talked about during the past half a dozen years that the public is becoming somewhat weary of further newspaper debates on the subjects. These are the Salt Lake railway, the Tenth-street hotel, and the Los Angeles smelter. Work has been commenced on each of these enterprises, but abandoned in an early stage. The "Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railway" is in operation for a few miles out of the Mormon city; the foundation of the Tenth-street hotel has been completed for something like seven years, and the framework of the smelter has stood, like a gaunt skeleton, on the east side of the river for more than two years. The idiot who next walks into the editorial-room and asks, "Why don't the Times stir up the Tenth-street hotel project?" is liable to die the death. The Bogardus kisser is in prime working order and well greased.

BURGLARS EXAMINED.

DAVIS, WILLIAMS AND MOSS ADMIT THEIR GUILT.

They say Lang is innocent of Complicity in Their Crimes—Justices Morrison, Howett, Held All Four to Answer in the Superior Court.

The four alleged burglars, Edward Lang, J. H. Davis, Harry Williams and David Moss, recently rounded up by the Los Angeles and San Francisco police, had a preliminary examination before Justice Morrison yesterday. All four were held to answer in $2000 bail.

The specific crime for which they were examined was the burglary of the residence of A. Rueff, No. 339 Crocker street. Davis and Williams made a clean sweep of the matter, and told in detail how they entered the house on the night of September 12, by the back door, with the aid of a skeleton key and a pair of nippers. Going upstairs they found several watches and a quantity of jewelry, which they took and departed. Moss denied that he took part in this burglary, but admitted that he was an associate of Davis and Williams. The three burglars who admitted their guilt tried to hold Lang. They said he was entirely innocent of complicity in their crimes. He had a wife and two children, and they did not wish to see him suffer for their wrong-doing. They admitted that they shipped some of the stolen plunder to Lang's address in San Francisco, and received through him remittances, but claimed that they explained to him that the goods were bought here at a bargain and were intended for a man named Mike McCaully, who attended to the selling of the plunder.

Lang did not testify in his own defense, but betrayed great nervousness. The detectives take no stock in his assumption of innocence, and the assertion of the burglars that he did not know that the goods shipped to him were stolen, is not presumed. It is assumed that he assisted personally in the burglary of the Rueff residence, but the detectives claim that they have ample evidence to prove that he aided and abetted the burglaries committed by the gang. The court, on the representations made by the detective, thought it best to hold Lang for trial, along with the other defendants.

Davis, Williams and Moss, by pleading guilty to the charge, evidently expect to get off with a light sentence, and are in a hurry to have it over with, but the probabilities are that they will be sent to the state prison, where they worked up in a number of cases, and it is probable they will have more than one charge to answer.

One of the detectives stated last night that there are other parties in San Francisco besides Lang, who will be drawn into the tolls before the case is ended. He also intimated that he assisted personally in the burglary of the Rueff residence, but the detectives claim that they have ample evidence to prove that he aided and abetted the burglaries committed by the gang. The court, on the representations made by the detective, thought it best to hold Lang for trial, along with the other defendants.

The registered letters sent to Davis by Lang were opened by the court, and were found to contain most damaging evidence against Lang and the gang. He addressed Davis as "Brother Jack," and told him to dispose of the goods shipped to him, and admonishes Jack to be very cautious. Among other things he says: "Jack, don't get a swelled head if you are successful for a while. Always fix to get away before you take any chances, and don't get reckless because things come your way. Watch out for No. 1, first, always. I think we ought to have some private mark on our letters, so no one can get in on us. You know how easy it is to forge some one's writing."

"You want to find out what kind of cuffs the bulls and sheriffs have when they strike a town, as most of the plain folks and can be duplicated, but only from the factory where they are made. You ought to look out for these things beforehand, for you do not know what minute some one may get pinched."

The detectives also intercepted letters to Williams from Jack Crowley and Mike McCaully, who appear to be connected with the gang. These are equally damaging to the prisoners and have been introduced as evidence. It is probable that the culprits will be taken into the Superior Court today by special arrangement and given a chance to plead guilty, which it is believed all will do, except Lang. If Lang can prove his innocence then circumstantial evidence is of little account.

Colegrove's Reform Club.

A number of the residents of Colegrove, who desire to perfect themselves in their knowledge of the political history of the United States, have organized a club which bears the name "The Monte Vista Union Reform Club." It is intended to draw into the club representatives from the various political organizations and parties and discuss in a systematic manner the views presented by different members concerning the important political issues of the day.

AMALGAMIOUS REPORT CORRECTED.

LYNWOOD DAIRY, Los Angeles, Oct. 4. 1895.—Owing to a report circulated by malicious parties to injure the Lynwood Dairy, stating that they are supplying their customers with milk from tuberculous cows, we feel it our duty to the public, as well as ourselves, to state the facts as they exist.

Last month we had our herd of cattle tested for tuberculosis, and all cows showing least trace of the disease were immediately separated from the healthy and no milk from those cows has been disposed of since. We also claim that we have the healthiest milk in the country, as it is absolutely free from any tubercular germs.

SESSIONS & CO.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4. To the public: I wish to state that, at the request of Mr. Sessions of the Lynwood Dairy, I obtained tuberculin of the Pasteur Institute and last month tested his herd of cattle for tuberculosis, and in every case where I found a trace of the disease we isolated them from the healthy, and the cows now constituting the Lynwood Dairy are free from tuberculosis or any disease, and being the only herd tested in the county, should certainly insure the purest milk. And the fact that Mr. Sessions has incurred a great expense, as well as the loss of a number of cattle, through this test, shows his honesty of purpose to his patrons. Every dairy should have a similar test.

HIGHLAND COMES IN.

THE ELECTION RESULT YESTERDAY A SURPRISE TO ALL.

Majority Vote in Favor of Annexing Highland Park to the City—Remarkably Light Vote Polling in Both City and Suburb.

Contrary to the prediction of almost every election prophet in the city, the suburb of Highland Park was yesterday voted into, and is now a part of the city of Los Angeles. After the defeat suffered by the annexation people in the election held on Thursday, few expected that Highland Park, with so much less to be gained by annexation than the suburbs which had rejected the invitation to "come into the fold," would embrace the opportunity of a lifetime and become an integral part of the city. But by a fair and square vote the suburb to the north signified its willingness to annex, and the city voters, who had been expected to vote against the annexation, voted in favor of it.

Little interest was shown in the election of Thursday, it was immediately compared with that exhibited by voters yesterday. There was not an average of fifty votes cast in each of the nine wards of the city, while the number of ballots deposited in Highland Park amounted to but forty-three. The total vote as received by the City Clerk is here given:

THE VOTE CAST.

No. of Ward. For. Against.

First 34 16

Second 43 17

Third 47 12

Fourth 30 6

Fifth 17 2

Sixth 15 32

Seventh 17 17

Eighth 31 14

Ninth 31 4

Total 305 110

HIGHLAND PARK.

For, 31; against, 12.

By these figures it may be seen that a majority of 19 in the suburb and 211 in the city voted in favor of the proposition to annex.

A rather funny incident is told in connection with the election. When the signatures on the petition for the election were being obtained, by both the Highland Park and the University people, M. T. Allen, the ruling spirit in the Highland Park forces, went to the leaders from the other end of the city, and proposed to bear the expense already incurred in the preparation of material for the election, and then combine forces, and hold the election on a single day. The University people spurned the proposition, refusing to be "hampered" by the Highland Park election, fondly imagining that their chances for victory were much better than those of the folks in the Highland Park. As it happened, University, with the rest of the southwestern suburbs, lost the election by a majority of 18 votes, while Highland Park won on the proposition to annex, with a majority of 19. Thus if the offer of the Highland Park annexationists had been accepted by their brethren from the south, everything in sight might have been annexed by this time and as a consequence happiness would have reigned supreme in the annexationist ranks.

It is understood, however, that a movement is on foot to contest the election in University, it being claimed that the votes of the University students were thrown out by the judges, without mention of such action having been made in the report of the returns. A delegation of citizens will probably appear before the Council on Tuesday of next week, to make a statement of the facts in the case.

We will show today a line of pure mohairs in small neat figures, for 50c a yard. They are 38 inches wide and easily worth 75c. We will show a portion of this stock in our windows today. It is the best dress goods bargain of the year; all new. On sale today for the first time; they are all blacks.

We will show today a line of 46 inch all-wool serges for 50c a yard. A double close woven twill, we will compare with any 75c all-wool serge in this city. We have this line in blacks and colors.

We will show today a line of fancy black mohairs in small neat designs, and will sell a limited quantity for 50c a yard. They are worth seeing.

In this connection we want to say that our dress-goods stock is in the best condition as regards prices, as regards quantity, as regards style. We are showing more new dress goods. We are showing better values. We have less old goods than any house in the entire city. We are showing more new goods for 25c, for 35c, for 50c. There is not a single piece carried over from last season. For 60c, 75c and $1 a yard our dress goods stock is way ahead of anything we have ever shown. These are the popular prices. This is where three-fourths of the sales are made. We have great values at these prices.

Today, new Mohair Crepons, $1.25, $1.50 and $2 a yard. They are extra heavy; and are just the thing for capes and for separate skirts. Have you investigated the Cloak Department this season? RURAL LIFE IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Crops and Markets.
 According to some statistics which have been compiled by the Southern Pacific Company, the shipments of deciduous fruit sent by rail to various Eastern points up to September 1, show a marked decrease as compared with last year. Up to the date mentioned there was a decrease of 1290 carloads as compared with last year. In other words, the shipments this year have been 30,960,000 pounds less than last season up to the same date.

This year, up to September 1, 2990 carloads were sent by the Santa Nevada, while 4289 carloads were the shipments for the same months of 1914. Expressed in weight this volume of railroad business means 71,760,000 pounds, as compared with 102,720,000 pounds.

The number of cars loaded with fruit that went through Ogden this year was 2650, as compared with 2500 for the season of 1914.

The railroad officials say that fully 1500 more cars will be sent East before the season comes to a close. The grape crop is very large, and grapes, pears and late peaches will comprise the bulk of the business from now on. But even with this additional business in prospect it is thought by the officials of the Southern Pacific that by the end of the season there will be a shortage of fully 1500 cars or 36,000,000 pounds in comparison with last year. So they calculate that for this year 30,720,000 pounds will represent the fruit shipments by rail from the Golden State. Chicago continues to be the great distributing center for California fruit. The quantity sent east of the Lake City this year was larger than for the preceding season, and now New York comes second as a point of distribution. Boston ranks third. The fruit sent to England is, however, credited to New York. St. Louis has taken a good deal of fruit this season, and the same is true of Omaha, St. Paul, Denver and Minneapolis.

The decreased volume of business is largely explained by the failure of the apricot and early peach and pear crops. As will be remembered, there were two severe frosts early last spring, which proved disastrous to the budding fruit trees in large orchard districts like the Vacaville. The apricot crop in particular suffered very much.

The California Fruit Grower, in its issue of September 28, gives the following supplementary information regarding shipments of deciduous fruits up to September 24:

"For the seven days ending September 24 the overall movement of fresh deciduous fruit was 253 carloads. This shows an increase over the previous week of 38 cars. The corresponding week in 1914 the movement was 204 cars. The total shipments this season to September 24 amount to 2828 carloads against 3270 cars to the same date last season, showing a shortage of 1442 cars. Grapes are going forward largely in excess of other fruits. The shipments for the seven days ending September 24 are as follows: Grapes, 118 cars; peaches, 234 cars; pears, 284 cars; quinces, 24 cars; apples, 1 car; plums, 1/4 car, and 1/4 car of mixed fruit. Prices show some improvement. Winter pears are a light crop, and should do well later on."

There is nothing new to remark in the prune market. The demand is small, prices being on the basis of 4 cents for the four sizes in sacks, f.o.b. Advice from France are to the effect that the prune crop in that country will not exceed one-third of last year's yield.

The continued depression in the dried fruit market has caused a few buyers to offer at rather lower prices than a week ago. There is no doubt that with the beginning of winter prices in the East will improve. A Southern California correspondent recently wrote to the California Fruit Grower as follows in regard to the dried fruit outlook:

"I have been at considerable pains to learn what has become of the dried fruit. There is very little now in the hands of the growers, hardly more than 5 or 10 per cent. of the crop. About half of this year's output is now stored in warehouses in Southern California, by speculators who purchased it. The balance has been shipped to the East. Thus it is that from this on the condition of the market will be of little concern to the growers. The fruit stored in the warehouses was bought at about 84 cents on an average, and must be sold by the speculators at close to 9 cents f.o.b. to let them out clear. At the present time there is no quotation possible on either apricots or peaches, as the dealers and holders of the fruit expect better market conditions. The dealers will only take fruit on consignment, and while there are cases in which 4 cents is advanced, the more conservative dealers will advance but 3 cents per pound on fruit shipped on consignment."

The local market for general produce has been quite firm during the past week, and producers generally have had the advantage. Butter, eggs, poultry and vegetables are all held firmly at prices quoted by The Times under the head of "Local Produce Market."

The Lemon Business.
 The demand for lemons in the East during the past few weeks has been greater than at any time during the past twenty years, and prices have reached the highest point touched in that period, lemons having been sold at $10.50 a box.

The lemon-growers of this section have still much to learn in the way of successfully curing their fruit, so that it will stand shipment. The Eastern dealers, while admitting that California lemons look better and taste better than the imported fruit, say that their keeping qualities are uncertain.

Some of the large lemon-growers of this section have been making extensive investigations as to the best method of preparing lemons for shipment. Among these is R. C. Allen, manager of the Sweetwater Fruit Company of San Diego county, which has a large lemon grove. Mr. Allen has been very successful in securing good prices for his fruit. In speaking with a representative of the San Diego Sun, he recently had the following to say in regard to the best method of preparing the fruit for market:

"The process of curing lemons for the Eastern market is entirely experimental, and I very much question whether we have yet found any satisfactory method of processing lemons for long distance shipping. The idea of curing lemons by the dark room and other Rip Van Winkle processes, as exploited by Mr. Garcelon of Riverside and others, probably originated in the fact that up to that time growers had been shipping to San Francisco and Coast points only, and in that case it was all right for the shipping not to jar the fruit and to have it quickly used up; but now I think the very best plan is to pick the fruit while green, put it in the packing-house long enough to start it coloring, and when the fruit is half colored ship it. It will then arrive at about full color in the East, and will have then the largest percentage of acid and the longest possible lease of life. Lemons are not required to keep over three or four weeks in summer after reaching their destination, and they will do that easily and much better in the winter if packed and shipped in this way. Inasmuch, as lemons are constantly ripening on the trees it will be seen that this idea is not only simple but practical. It is the one adopted by the Ontario Lemon Exchange, which has been most successful in its shipments. The burden of a letter received from Eastern buyers seems to be that while California lemons look better and taste better than Sicily fruit, their keeping qualities are very poor and uncertain as a rule. Now a great factor in our favor is that Eastern wholesalers can wire to the grower and or shipper here and fill an order for a car of California lemons almost any week in the year, whereas shipments from Italy are always long delayed, and fluctuating on account of the great distance. As the trees get older the fruit will become sounder, and improved methods will bring conditions in handling the fruit."

A carload of lemons shipped recently to Kansas City by the Allen brought $100, which is certainly a good price. With a little care on part of growers California lemons ought to be able to hold their own in the Eastern market against all comers.

How the Orange Was Improved.
 The proprietors of the Agricultural Chemical Works on Macy street in this city have issued several bulletins on subjects connected with the fertilizing of orchards, the abatement of diseases and so forth, the same having been prepared by Prof. S. M. Woodbridge, vice-president of the company.

Bulletin No. 8, "How the Orange Was Improved." It contains information that is of interest to those who are looking for the best means of maintaining the fruitfulness of their orchards, a subject which is beginning to concern many horticulturists in this section. The immense crop that is harvested from an orange orchard in full bearing makes a heavy drain on the soil and unless provision is made to restore the elements that are extracted it is inevitable that the quality of the fruit will deteriorate. The following is the bulletin:

"A test plot was put out by the writer on the Richards ranch, at North Pomona, in January, 1913, and the fertilizers were renewed in the spring of 1914. On the 22d of April, 1915, oranges were taken from each plot. The samples, duly numbered, were sent to the Agricultural Chemical Works, where, with the writer, made the analysis."

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

ASSESSOR AND TAX COLLECTOR.

As is quite natural, there continues to be much lively discussion in the City Hall regarding the proposition to take advantage of the law allowing the Council to abolish the office of City Assessor and City Tax Collector.

The constitutionality of the act is brought into question. Considerable surprise has been aroused among citizens at the action of the Mayor in promptly signing his objections to the proposed measure.

On the ground that it would not be in the interest of economy, as has already been shown in The Times, Mr. Rader made a serious mistake in stating the differences between the county and city valuation of city property at $18,800,000.

The result of the search for the fourth of that amount. The investor of yesterday contains the following upon the subject of this proposed municipal reform:

"The actual cost of running the Assessor's office for the year ended August last, as reported by the Auditor, was $10,000, and the Tax Collector's, $10,000, together $20,000; but there is no reason to suppose that the cost of the proposed office would be less than that of the present one."

It does not appear to be included in this footing, and we think $30,000 a year would be nearer the mark, which would be a considerable saving, considering the fact that the present office is properly excluded from this calculation.

In all the arguments that have been brought to bear in favor of the change, the smallest share has been laid upon the fact that the proposed office would be a relief to the city.

The abolition of the office would actually increase the money paid even up to the city by the county, and it would yet be a relief to the city.

The system of dual returns and dual valuations, which has been the cause of many errors, causes an immense amount of needless labor on the part of the taxpayer. None but those who have had some experience in the matter can appreciate the relief of having their labor reduced one-half.

HIS TUNE CHANGES.

Ask some men for an advertisement or a few locals and they will say they don't believe in advertising—a paper is never read. Let them be caught kissing his neighbor's wife or trying to hold up the side of a building some time, and his tune changes instantly, and if the printing office is in a garret of a seventeen-story building, he will climb up to the top and beg the editor to keep quiet—not to publish in the paper. The paper is not read—oh, no! paper. The paper is not read—oh, no! paper. The paper is not read—oh, no! paper.

THE POLICE COURT.

Petty Offenders Before the Bar of Justice Yesterday.

In the Police Court yesterday Frank McCormick got a fifteen-days' sentence for battery. He had a fight with a bar-keeper over the price of some beer which McCormick and two companions drank. McCormick's friends, Charles Oliver and Louis Jones, got ten days each for vagrancy.

Y. E. Dickerson, colored, was fined $10 for disturbing the peace of Harry Williams, another colored man, by threatening him with a razor. James Riley and Robert Henry were found guilty of petty larceny and will be sentenced to day. They stole ten gasoline cans.

Joe Watkins, manager of the Thalia saloon, was arraigned for battery on complaint of H. Soldana, whom he ejected from the saloon. Watkins will have a hearing October 18.

Fred Fredericks was arraigned for petty larceny, it being charged that he stole $20 from a crib woman.

Mrs. George Goodrich, who has had trouble with her landlord, J. H. Fuller, was arraigned for disturbing the peace. She will be tried October 8. Mrs. Goodrich and her husband were tried on a similar charge some time ago and acquitted.

The petty larceny charge against Louis Baker, the boy who changed the wheels on a bicycle which he borrowed, was dismissed on payment of $5 costs.

Philanthropy and Business.

Have you had any "Stomach Troubles" lately? We have purchased from "The Koch Medical Company," 256 Church street, New York, twenty gross of boxes of their justly celebrated "Dr. Koch's Digestine," a sure cure for all diseases and troubles of the stomach. We have the medicine now put up either in powders or capsules. The regular price is 50c per box. It was BUSINESS, our buying so large a quantity and gaining control of this remedy. It's PHILANTHROPY on our part to sell it at 35 cents per box. Just now many are in need of it, as Stomach Troubles seem to be epidemic.
